

Intimacy & Sexual Health Clinic

A Confidential and Respectful Service

Our Clinical and Consulting Psychologists provide up-to-date research-based strategies for enhancing intimacy and sexual wellbeing.

Concerns about sexual functioning are very common at different stages of our lives and can affect our general level of happiness and satisfaction in our relationships. General health, life stage, medical treatments, surgery and emotional wellbeing can all have an impact on functioning. Concerns may be associated with:

- Lack of desire or changes in desire
- Menopausal changes
- Pain with intercourse
- Erection problems / premature ejaculation
- Managing urological functioning
- Managing treatment side effects for localized & advanced disease
- Prostate, breast & other cancers

Sexual rehabilitation techniques may include information and support, and may cover the role of medicines, vacuum pumps and injection therapies. Treatments may involve collaboration with your GP or specialists in this area such as Urologists, Gynaecologists or Physiotherapists to provide the very best outcomes possible. We are Medicare providers and rebates are available for eligible patients.
